41 A Farmhouse In Provence

Spend a week at an 1870's french farm house in the heart of the historic Luberon region of Provence where Peter Mayall wrote his popular novel "A Year In Provence".

The house has two stories, five bedrooms, a full kitchen and picnic patio. Large enough for a party of 10.

The home is located in a tiny hamlet with views of Roussillon and is 8 kms from Gordes, 11 kms from Apt.

The stay would begin on Saturday afternoon and end the following Saturday morning, any time in May, June, July, September, or October of 2011 or 2012
